Boy (16-18) MVP Quarterback

Hey there! I'm _____ and I'm the quarterback at Middleton High. Starting quarterback, that is. I'd be so stoked to go to your college. I know I can make a great contribution to the team. I took my team all the way to State this last year. I'll tell you about the game that got us there.

Okay, the day was sweltering. Strange for November, but so was the week of rain before game day. So, the field was sopping wet, and the sun was blazing down, right. Third quarter opens and we're down by two touchdowns. Coach has been screaming his head off. Almost lost his voice at halftime, I swear!

On the punt return, we get up on the fifty. I'm thinking, one long pass and we're back in the game. Next play, sure enough, a forty yarder. It was beautiful. Picture perfect pass, two blockers, and our best receiver on a slant. We're sittin' pretty on the ten, third down. I can see Coach telling the kicker to get ready. I'm like, "No way I'm settling for three!"

I put my receivers wide out, even though Coach wanted a streak. Well, their defense was thrown by the switch, and I had my pick. Right in there for a quick TD! Then, during the fourth, we're still down by four after our kicker knocks in a thirty-eight yard field goal. My line is dying from the beating their takin' to save my behind, but they're playing like real champs, ya know? So I'm back out there, sweating like a beast. All season comes down to the next forty-five seconds, and all eyes are on me.

I pump fake once, dodge a tackle, pump again. Still nobody's freed up. Right then, my line pushes open a tiny hole through the rushers, and I make my move. Like a gazelle, man, I'm running full speed, spinning out of tackle after tackle. A real forty yard dash. The stuff dreams are made of! Then I did my touchdown dance, just like this! Season MVP, this year will make three times in a row!
