Girl (13-15) Caught Cheating

I got in big big trouble last period. My teacher, Mrs. Beckman, caught me cheating on the math test. She had me go to the principal's office and then they called my folks.

I don't know what they'll do to me. But, after school today my Dad and Mom are coming for a meeting with Mrs. Beckman and the principal. I'm thinking I should bail outta here and head for Mexico! I wish I knew what my fate was. I don't care much about the detentions or anything. I'm just freakin' about what my Dad'll do when we get home! Last time he had to come to school, I couldn't see daylight for like a month!

This totally sucks. I shoulda just studied for the stupid test. I hate math so much, though! The only good thing about it was this guy who was sitting next to me got in trouble for sharing his answers with me. Brad . . . dreamy! and how if I got grounded I have a cell phone and I'll talk to Brad all day in my room, so maybe it won't be so bad.
