

Kidz • New Faces • Young Adults

Girl (16-18) Dating Concerns

I just don't get it! I flirt with him all the time. Even at lunch today, I was super smiley the whole time, laughed at all of his jokes and must've flipped my hair twenty times! Is he blind? Maybe he's just an idiot!

The dance is only three weeks away now. Don't you think if he were gonna ask me, he should do it already? I mean, I've got to get a new dress, matching shoes, not to mention set up a time to get my hair done. This all takes planning, and time is running low. Maybe I should just go ahead and act like we're already going together?

I know he likes me. Everybody says so, and he's totally cute. I even told Christy to tell him that if he asked me, I'd say yes! What's he waiting for? This is so frustrating. I'm all stressed out already, I'll probably get a zit just before the dance. Isn't that always how it goes? Get all prettied up, then look in the mirror one last time, just to find a mondo black head hanging right on the tip of your nose. I can't wait 'til dating gets easier, like in college.

6310 San Vicente Blvd., Suite 340, Los Angeles CA. 90048
Phone: 310-888-1128 | Fax: 310-888-1127 | Email: info@theESInetwork.com

© THE ESI NETWORK 2004 ALL RIGHTS RESERVED