Girl (16-18) Times have changed

Just like that old school song by ìFresh Prin ceî, parents just donít understand! I m ean, I know that they were my age a long, long time agoÖbut tim es have changed, man! Weíre growing up quicker. Thereís three girls in my graduating class that already have babies. Yeah! Parents gotta quit being soÖso parental!

Get this. I tell my father heís gotta give me money for car insurance. He says, ìwhy donít you get a job?î Íím like, ìHow can I get a job when Ííve got so much to do already!î

I go to school everyday, then Ííve got poms practice. Íím super busy with that, ěcause homecomings right around the corner. Íím up for Queen, so Ííve got all that to worry about. And the homework load is killiní me! How could I possibly get a job too? No. Heís just gonna have to fork it over.
