Girl (9-12) Perfect Wedding

It will be the greatest day ever. I'll have a super long, lace wedding gown, with a beautiful thingy over my face. The sun will shine brighter than ever before. Everyone will say "Wow, she is so pretty!" My dad will be all dressed up in a tuxedo, and Mom'll probably cry so much she'll need a whole box of Kleenex. Oh, I can't wait for my wedding day!

And then I'll be Mrs. Freddie Prince, Jr. And Freddie will call me his princess. Then I'll make everybody call me Princess Prince, Jr. Isn't that great? Oh, all my friends will be there. I'll make you my maid of honor. Jenny can be one too. And I'll make my mom make a baby sister for me so she can throw flowers all over the church.

I'm not going to invite Angie, though. She's so mean. I won't let her in if she shows up. No way! She thinks she's going to marry Freddie. Ha! Like he'd marry her. So, anyway, Freddie will ride into the church on a big white horse. Oh, I'll ride in on a beautiful white pony, and then I'll keep the pony and ride him whenever I want. My wedding is going to be so perfect!

Mrs. Larissa Prince, Jr. Doesn't that sound so good? Freddie will be like "Do you, Larissa, take me as your husband?" And I'll be like, "Yeah, sure I do!" And then we'll live happily ever after. Me, Freddie and my pony. But no Angie!
