N1 - Nuli without Cruelty Makeup

Yes, I'm a teenager....but I'm also an animal lover. So these days, as I find myself wearing grown-up make up, I've also decided to make some grown-up choices. Beauty Without Cruelty Makeup by iNuli - never tested on animals, from stage one to stage 10.

I know that a lot of other companies say that their products are not tested on animals, which may or may not be true. While they no longer physically test tons of makeup on defenseless animals for new products, they do use the same ingredients in their makeup that were discovered by cruel animals testing some time ago.

Nuli uses new ingredients in all their makeup products....started right from scratch, and the only tests were done by computers.

So next time you are buying cosmetics, think about my cat Misty, then make your own grown up decision.
